GDPR Statement

Privacy Policy

Radmat Building Products Ltd is committed to protecting your personal data and we want you to understand the choices and control you have over your information.

The General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is now in force, and it governs how data is stored and processed. Key points include:

- GDPR: The European data protection law known as the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is in effect. It gives individuals in the EU greater control over how their data is used and places obligations on businesses that process that information..
- Transparency: We provide clear information about the data we collect, how we use it, and the choices and control available to you.
- Functionality: You may request access to your personal information and ask for it to be corrected or deleted where appropriate.

Radmat hold various data on your organisation which may include:-

- Business Name/Address
- Business Contacts
- Various Telephone numbers and Email addresses supplied by yourself
- VAT and company registration number
- Bank Account details

We use this information only for trading purposes and for communicating with you. It is stored either in locked physical storage at our head office or digitally on our secure server. Radmat has never shared, and will never share, your personal data with any third party without your permission.
